MANY FORCES JOIN FIGHT ON CHICAGO GANGS

Grand Jury Charged to Learn Facts; Church Federation Acts

Chicago, June 17.—(UP)—State's Attorney John A. Swanson and his chief investigator, Pat Roche, started a third secret investigation today into the assassination of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter.

Ten of the State's Attorney's crack detectives, working from a secret office and captained by Roche, began delving into the numerous ramifications of the murder that has stirred indignation of public and press. The goal of the "secret 10" is to whip the case into shape and present it as soon as possible to the grand jury ordered yesterday by Chief Justice Dennis J. Normoye to "sift the Lingle case to the bottom."

The police, now under the direction of a new commissioner, are investigating under cover and the "Secret Six" of the Association of Commerce, now raised to the "Secret 16" also is in the field with the avowed purpose of finding the guilty gangster.

Secret Confessions. Charles Rathburn, Special Assistant State's Attorney appointed at the instigation of the Tribune to coordinate the triple investigation, said he and Roche would meet secretly later in the day to discuss Roche's part in the drive.

Swanson said he hoped to have the Lingle case well enough in hand to present to Justice Normoye's grand jury for action and possible indictments but it he would certainly have it ready for the next jury a month hence.

Swanson and Normoye planned a conference later today on the grand jury aspects of the assassination.

John H. Alcock, Commissioner of Police who succeeded William F. Russell yesterday as the latter resigned under fire, continued the reorganization of the police department. His first move was to cancel several reassignments of captains which Russell had made just before resigning.

Chicago, June 17.—(UP)—Reorganization of the police department and preparations for an immediate grand jury investigation of crime conditions proceeded rapidly today as powerful forces set in motion by the murder of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, pressed forward with telling effect.

Pending appointment of a new Commissioner of Police to take the place of William R. Russell, who resigned yesterday, to "give the reformers a chance," Deputy Commissioner John Alcock, "Iron Man," ruled the department.

New strength was given the Association of Commerce "Secret Six" committee of millionaire "crime-crushers" through a decision to increase the membership of the body from 6 to 16.

The Chicago Church Federation representing half a million citizens was definitely in the campaign to rid Chicago of crime after appointing a committee of five ministers and five laymen to force a "showdown."

Grand Jury Charged. The June grand jury, specially charged by Chief Justice Normoye of the Criminal Court to investigate thoroughly all phases of the Lingle slaying, was being counted upon today to bring to light secret coalitions of gangsters and public officials.

In charging the grand jury, Justice Normoye said: "Public anger is at its highest pitch. It is ridiculous that disorganized mobs should try to run this city. If you cannot complete the investigation in your term of service I will see that succeeding grand juries carry on your work."

State's Attorney John A. Swanson placed at the disposal of the inquisitorial body today his staff of assistants and investigators for the purpose of gathering evidence in the Lingle murder.

Deputy Commissioner Alcock, in taking over temporary control of the police department, immediately rescinded an order by which Russell had transferred a number of subordinates to new posts.

Investigation Continues. Alcock intimated that whatever transfers are made will depend on the situation he finds after a survey of the department.

The resignations of Russell and his Chief of Detectives, John Stege both of whom assumed the ratings of Captain in outlying districts failed to halt the investigation of the department started yesterday by the city council's committee on police.

New evidence that gangland still was carrying on its wars and taking its victims for "rides" was seen in the discovery of the headless body of a

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., June 17.—(AP)—William S. Brock and Edward P. Schlee took off at 5:04 (E. S. T.) today for a round trip flight to San Diego, Calif.

The start was without incident, the their monoplane skimming down the beach half a mile before rising and heading into the west.

Brock and Schlee, who carried 450 gallons of gasoline, hoped to reach San Diego, a distance of 2,112 miles and return to Jacksonville beach in 24 to 30 hours.

Overcast weather prevailed at the take-off and moderate headwinds and showers were predicted along the route of the flight.

The stream-lined monoplane of the famous pair is radio-equipped and the fliers expected to establish communications to obtain weather forecasts and to report the progress of their flight. Call letters for the ship are KHILO and broadcasting will be done on a frequency of 457 kilocycles.

The plane, which weighs 6,500 pounds with a full load, was expected to average 160 to 170 miles an hour.

For good luck, Schlee arranged to wear the same pair of tan and white sport shoes he wore when another monoplane, the Pride of Detroit, carried them safely across the Atlantic ocean and Europe to Tokyo in 1927.

Brock and Schlee took off from Harbor Grace, N. F., August 27, 1927 and reached Tokyo September 14, a distance of 12,295 miles.

NURSES GRADUATE FROM DIXON STATE HOSPITAL MONDAY

Director Brandon Gave Address Of Evening: Seven In Class

The first class of nurses to be graduated from the Dixon State Hospital received their diplomas last evening at a public program held in the assembly hall at the institution which was largely attended. Rodney H. Brandon, Director of the Department of Public Welfare, delivered the address to the graduating class as a feature of the program. His remarks were highly congratulatory to the graduates who have completed their course of study with an outlook to humanitarian relief.

In his remarks Director Brandon called attention to the marked lack of education among the penal group of the states wards. Of more than 2,700 boys in penal institutions in Illinois, but 12 hold high school diplomas, the speaker told his listeners. He stressed the need for higher education among the youth of Illinois. Lack of education, idleness, the need for occupation and the necessary development of interest in the child arriving at school age, were found to be outstanding attributes discovered in the wayward boys and girls of the state today. The idle boy who lacks educational facilities, spurs occupational development after graduation prefers to loiter about pool rooms and seeks this environment, is the class that abounds in the junior group in the penal institutions of Illinois, and later develops the criminals, the speaker pointed out.

Attorney H. C. Warner of this city was the first speaker on the program and dwelt upon the loyalty and responsibility of the nursing profession. After congratulating the members of the class, he introduced Director Brandon.

Member of Class
The program opened with a selection by the institution orchestra. This was followed by the invocation given by Rev. A. Turley Stephenson, pastor of the Methodist church. At the conclusion of Director Brandon's remarks, Dr. Warren C. Murray, managing officer of the institution, presented the diplomas to the class of graduates consisting of the following: Christine Schneeman, Bernice Montgomery, Cecelia Williams, Theresa Downey, Elsa Cronwell, Irene McNeill and Audrey Cluck.

Dr. Willard Thompson of this city favored with a vocal selection after which Mrs. Nora Anderson conducted the administration of the Florence Nightingale pledge to the graduates. Miss H. Leverau presented the class pins and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. F. T. G. Flynn of St. Anne's parish this city. The exercises were followed by a congratulatory reception and dancing party social events have been arranged honoring the members of the first class of nurses to be graduated from the Dixon institution. This evening the members of the class are to be guests of honor at a banquet. Tomorrow evening the junior nurses class will entertain the graduates at a dinner at the Colonial Inn at Grand Detour. Thursday afternoon the junior and graduate nurses will entertain with a picnic luncheon at the Pines state park.

PLUS FOURS, DEGREE GONE.
Chicago, June 17.—(UP)—After Elmer Anderson, Cable, Wis., youth was graduated from Valparaiso University last week he packed his plus fours, his two-tone sport shoes, his four years' supply of text books and the coveted B. A. degree and started homeward in his automobile.

Riding with him was Mary Rawley, Ashland, Wis., girl friend. Arriving in Chicago, they parked their automobile in Grant Park on the lake front and set out to see the sights. When they returned the plus fours, books, black and white shoes, degree and all had disappeared.

The Sergeant sent a couple of policemen around the park to look for a hobo in plus fours, and black and white shoes, using science and art texts as a pillow and a B. A. degree as a sun shade.

The policemen didn't find any, however, so Elmer will have to go home without a degree and a sport wardrobe.

JACKSTONE IN STOMACH.
Chicago, June 17.—(UP)—An interlude of two foodless days between two inebriated swallows had Edwin Fischer, 13, thoroughly convinced today that, after all, sword swallowing is a man's game but playing Jacks is only for girls.

Edwin, deaf and dumb since birth, lost his appetite two days ago. His inability to eat, which he couldn't explain alarmed his parents and they took him to a doctor.

An X-ray picture of his stomach told the story, but it took a esophagoscope to relieve the situation. Edwin was disinclined to down the instrument. So Dr. Herbert Nash wrote him a note and the note said: "Now, Eddie, you have been at the circus and seen the sword swallower. We'll play circus and you be the sword swallower."

Edwin was inspired and swallowed the rubber hose through which the physician ran a pair of forceps. It was slightly embarrassing to Eddie to have the act ended by the recovery of a metal jackstone.

Three Arabs Put To Death In Jerusalem

Jerusalem, June 17.—(AP)—Three Arabs convicted of murders committed during the rioting of last August, today paid the supreme penalty for their participation in the disturbances of that time.

The three were executed before noon at Acre jail. All endeavors of the Arab executioners, supported by the heads of the Christian churches, to obtain a reprieve for them failed.

A general strike was called and was observed throughout Palestine in protest at carrying out of the sentences. Shops, practically without exception, were closed.

Intense excitement prevailed at Acre where Arabs demanded the corpses of the executed men, wishing to bury them themselves instead of having them interred in the prison cemetery.

Meanwhile airplanes demonstrated over the town. From 10 A. M. to 10:30 A. M. church bells rang, calling Arabs to prayer throughout the country in memorial services for the dead.

A search of his room yielded only a few articles of clothing and a razor.

HOOVER SIGNS BILL AT NOON AMID CHEERS

Short and Simple Ceremony Marks Final Step in Passage

MY PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent. Washington, June 17.—(UP)—President Hoover signed the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill today, thereby making it a law. Its new and higher duties on imports will go into effect at all ports of entry at midnight tonight.

With short and simple ceremony the President fulfilled the requirements of the constitution, proclaiming law the tariff act which Congress spent 18 months in making. The House and Senate conferees who whipped the measure into its final form were present, led by the co-authors of the bill, Chairman Reed Smoot or the Senate Finance com-

"Joker" Is Found In New Tariff Bill

Washington, June 17.—(UP)—A "joker" has been found in the new tariff.

Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee and Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee have discovered that the refined sugar duty provided in the bill is not what was intended.

The rate, it is indicated will permit importation of refined sugar at a lower duty than raw sugar, thus encouraging the further establishment of refineries in Cuba. "Something ought to be done about it," Hawley said today, "but it is too late to do anything at this session of Congress."

mittee and Chairman Willis Hawley of the House Ways and Means committee.

The bill was signed at 12:59 P. M. President Hoover had announced it would be signed at 12:45, but it was delayed while those in the President's office waited for Senator Watson. At 1:59, however, it was decided not to wait longer for Watson and the bill was signed.

Six pens were used and distributed to those present.

A steady rain was falling outside the offices and it was believed Watson might have been delayed on that account. He had been expected to witness the signing.

The bill was on Mr. Hoover's desk in the center of his circular office and those in the room gathered about the President as he signed his name and the time.

Under Secretary of Treasury Ogden L. Mills was notified by telephone of the signing, and immediately put into operation the necessary machinery for making the bill effective at midnight.

No newspapermen or photographers were allowed in the President's office during the ceremony. George Akerson, the President's Secretary, acted as the liaison man between the office and the two score newspaper correspondents waiting outside for news of the signing.

Extensive preparations have been made to see that the duties become swiftly effective. Instructions were sent out to several days ago by the treasury department to all customs inspectors. These instructions set out the new rates which are to be charged upon imported products.

Only the additional word that Mr. Hoover has now signed the bill is needed to put the vast new rate structure into effect.

Prefaces a Battle

There was drama in the President's action despite the fact it was already known that he would sign the bill. All those present realized the political battle.

Administration have announced their intention of carrying their fight against the measure to the polls in the coming Congressional elections.

To no legislation in the past eight years has so much importance been attached. Its increased duties on sugar, shoes, lumber, cement, bricks and wool and hides, particularly, aroused the Senate to the most extensive political debate in recent times. Its alleged influence in curtailing buying power by Democrats in the Senate yesterday by Democrats as one of the reasons for the stock market decline.

Just how great the increased duties are is a subject of an intense

COMMITTEE TO VOTE ON NAVY
TREATY MONDAYSenate Body Decided
13 to 4 Against
Further Delay

Washington, June 17—(UP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee today agreed to vote next Monday on its report to the Senate regarding the London naval treaty.

The agreement was reached after the committee had voted down, 13 to 4, a motion presented by treaty opponents to postpone further consideration until President Hoover permits Secretary of State Stimson to deliver to the committee secret papers dealing with negotiations.

The motion to postpone consideration was offered by Senator Johnson, Rep., Cal., leading opponent of the treaty. Two other Republicans, Moses, N. H. and Robinson, Ind., and Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minn., voted with him. The vote was a test of the treaty's strength in the committee.

Defeat of this motion compels the committee minority opposing the treaty to carry their objections to Mr. Hoover's policy to the Senate floor unless they are willing to admit defeat.

The committee discussed the treaty for an hour and 15 minutes. Chairman Borah and others who favor the treaty first predicted a report last week and then said the treaty would go before the Senate this week. Delay until Monday, however, will not prevent the treaty reaching the Senate on the first day of the special session which probably will begin next week.

Borah's intention is merely to present the treaty with a report of a single sentence stating the committee's favorable attitude. Senator Johnson and his fellow opponents of the treaty are planning a more comprehensive minority report in opposition.

Conflicting views of what would follow its introduction were held by members of the committee. Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, contended Vice-President Curtis was required by law to cite the Bishop to the District Attorney for possible contempt proceedings.

Chairman Caraway believed, however, the Bishop did not legally refuse to answer questions because the committee ruled it had no right to inquire into his political activities. At least two other members of the committee of five agreed with Caraway.

In the event of the Vice President taking no action, it was considered unlikely that any further move would be made against the southern Methodist churchman. Curtis has declined to comment on his position.

INSULL PREVENTS ATTACK ON POWER
INDUSTRY TODAYDemand Withdrawal Of Speech Prepared By Minister Sackett

By FREDERICK KUH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, June 17—(UP)—A speech on the power industry, which United States Ambassador Frederick M. Sackett had planned to deliver before the World Power Conference tomorrow, has been withdrawn.

The speech, in which Sackett criticized the industry on the ground that the cost of power to the consumer is out of all proportion to the cost of production, was cancelled after Samuel Insull, Illinois public utilities magnate, had called on the Ambassador. It was understood that during the call he demanded its withdrawal. The United Press obtained details of the incident from an unquestionable source.

In the prepared speech, Sackett had written of electric power:

"I know of no other manufacturing industry where the sale price of the product to the great mass of consumers is 15 times the actual cost of production of the article sold. My purpose is in short to define its weakness. That calls for the keenest thought in your deliberations."

"Until the power business is brought in line with other industries in the relationship of its cost of production to the price paid by the consumer of the product, there can be little justification for the thought that this great power industry is rapidly approaching its perfection."

When questioned by the United Press today, Insull said:

"I neither affirm nor deny the story, but I would like to enjoy my European holiday."

The American delegation to the conference decided to visit Sackett this afternoon to urge him to reconsider and deliver his speech, with amplification of the questioned passages.

The Ambassador, Republican, and former Senator from Kentucky, was formerly president of the Louisville Gas Co., the Louisville Lighting Co., and several coal companies.

Boy Swam Mile
In Cold Water
To Save Friends

Milwaukee, Wis., June 17—(UP)—A 17-year-old boy, Donald Aiken, swam almost a mile through the chilly waters of Lake Michigan today and saved the lives of four men who were drifting toward death on the disabled fruit boat, Mary Margaret.

Jammed to the gunwales with crates of strawberries, the Mary Margaret, whose home port is St. Joseph, Mich., struck a rock and the propeller was stripped. The boat began to drift toward the rocks off Grant Point.

Capt. Phillip R. Eagles called for volunteers to swim ashore and call the Coast Guard. The nearest land point where a telephone could be reached was almost a mile away and the temperature was 45 degrees.

Ambrose Stump, 23, of St. Joseph, made the first attempt but returned in a few minutes. As he climbed aboard, Aiken went over the stern and started for the shore.

The four men kept one eye on the bobbing head of the boy and the other on the rocks. Finally Aiken disappeared and the crew turned its attention to the ever-narrowing distance to the jagged points. When the boat was less than 15 minutes from disaster a Coast Guard cutter hove into view and took the fruit boat into tow.

"It was darned cold," young Aiken said as he greeted his friends here. "Every once in a while I felt myself getting cold but each time I just swam a little harder. After I got into the breakers it was easier going. I climbed up the bank and ran to the first farmhouse and called the Coast Guards."

ON FOREST LAND

(To be sung to tune of "My Maryland")

GREAT forests grew in days gone by
On forest land, on forest land,
Where now bare sands and black stumps lie
On forest land, on forest land,
For saw and ax in careless hand
Have swept the trees from forest land,
And fire has flung his glowing brand
On forest land, on forest land.

The acres burned, the acres bare,
On forest land, on forest land,
The acres wrecked by lack of care,
On forest land, on forest land,
Now spread their millions, barren dead,
Where no man works, no game is fed,
And muddy streams their banks overspread,
On forest land, on forest land.

Drive out the fire that seeks to spoil
Our forest land, our forest land,
And save the trees and save the soil,
On forest land, on forest land,
We'll cut our logs with careful hand,
Leave seed to grow a later stand,
And plant with trees the idle land—
Make forest land a harvest land.

A good sized audience was present at the Prairieville church Sunday afternoon when, during a joint session of Sunday school and church, held at 2 o'clock, a flag was presented to the church by the Women's Relief Corps of Dixon. A patriotic program by young people of the community accompanied the presentation. The following numbers were given:

Battle Hymn of the Republic, audience.
Presentation of the Flag, by the Dixon W. R. C.

Acceptance on Behalf of the church, L. A. Thummel.

"I Salute Thee, Old Glory," by four girls.

The Flag of Our Country, Dwight Harms.

Violin Solo, George Thompson, accompanied by Marion Myers.

FLOWERS NO LONGER CHIC ON SHOULDER

PARIS (AP)—The fashionable woman no longer wears her artificial flowers on her left shoulder, but tucks them into the front of her evening dress or wears them somewhere in the general vicinity of the waistline, front or back.

An artificial gardenia attached to the foresleeve of a tailored coat-dress of navy blue or black with touches of white is a chic style adopted by several notably well turned out women.

WRAPAROUND SKIRT HIDES PRINTED SHORTS

PARIS (AP)—Plain colored shantung summer suits for resort wear, as shown in some of the new mid-summer style collections here, have surprise features.

One of the surprises is a pleated wraparound skirt which hides printed shantung shorts matching a printed shantung sleeveless blouse with sun back.

Some of the print shorts are the usual athletic type.

The plain and print shantung suits have big hats of the same material at one of the leading couturier establishments.

Comfortable Surplus In Treasury Is Seen

Washington, June 17—(AP)—President Hoover looked forward today to a very comfortable Treasury surplus at the close two weeks hence of his first full fiscal year as the nation's Chief Executive.

Such an outcome was assured by quarterly income tax collections and cash payments made by foreign governments in reduction of their funded indebtedness to the United States.

Treasury officials declined to predict the amount of the surplus but there were indications that it would exceed $100,000,000.

A total of $117,114,538.24 was received in cash late yesterday from thirteen governments. Ordinarily such payments are made in United States government securities, automatically reducing the public debt.

With approximately $500,000,000 in quarterly income tax payments received yesterday, the nation's total revenue for the fiscal year will be more than $4,000,000,000. A total of $3,470,000,000 had been received on June 13 but expenditures to that time had been $3,712,000,000 leaving a deficit of $242,000,000.

THE DEMOCRACY OF GOLF.

Baseball is and has been the great American game; but this matter of golf is rapidly reaching the point where something will have to be done about it, even if that something is no more effective than the writing of a piece for the paper.

Golf is not the cheapest game in the world, what with the price of clubs, balls and greens fees; but it is swiftly being Americanized into a very democratic affair. It's worth reflecting upon briefly.

To get an insight into golf-democracy, don't go to an expensive private club. You can learn nothing there, except that a rotund captain of industry can, on occasion, look highly ridiculous in knickers. Go to a public links, or to one of those suburban or small town clubs where the fees are within reach of the average man. You'll find plenty to interest you.

When a man steps on a golf course—and here, perhaps, is the real secret of the game's amazing growth in popularity in this country—he leaves his caste behind him. When he waggles his club hopefully at the first tee, resolved to imprint on the yet stainless record of the next two hours a more brilliant round than he has ever before accomplished, he ceases to be the John Jones or Bill Smith of everyday life and becomes just a golfer. And what a multitude of sins and sinners that word covers!

Your golfer, let us say, is a man of substance; a middle-aged man of position and authority. In his ordinary life he is respected and obeyed. He knows his job and he knows it well. No one can find fault with his skill in it.

But out here, on the golf course—what a difference! He is, as we said, just a golfer. He swings his club furiously and his ball flies off at an unaccountable and illogical tangent. He pursues it, assails it with another club and succeeds only in ruining a bit of turf. With a strange gleam in his eye he tries again and plants his ball in a babbling brook.

And so it goes, for two or more hours. His companion in play, perhaps, he a chance acquaintance of the links—a $25-a-week youngster who, off the course, is just an underling, obliged to address this man with awe and respect. But on the course the positions are reversed. The young nobody slams a 200-yard drive straight down the fairway, and a look of unqualified admiration enters the older man's eyes. His money cannot buy him a drive like that.

When the round ends the men step back into their daily roles. The young man runs to catch the trolley, and the elder one gets into his $3000 automobile. He is a Somebody once more. But for a short time he has been a nobody, a duffer, a despised underling—and it has been good for him.

Oh, yes—one ought to add that in all probability the two have been accompanied on their round by a 15-year-old caddy in patched pants, who could take a set of discarded clubs and lick the daylight out of the two of them.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

GOUNOD'S BIRTH

On June 17, 1818, Charles Gounod, French composer of sacred and dramatic music, was born in Paris the son of an eminent painter and engraver.

It was from his mother, an accomplished musician, that young Gounod received his taste for music. At the age of 18 he entered the Paris conservatory, where he won in his first year the second Prix de Rome. Three years later he won the Grand Prix de Rome. His first appointment was as an organist in Paris, but it was not until he produced his opera Sappho in 1851 that he attracted attention.

After superintending the instruction of singing to the communal schools of Paris and directing the choral society connected with them, Gounod wrote his noted opera, Faust, his greatest success, and one of the most enduring popular operas of the modern stage. His next greatest success was the opera Romeo and Juliet.

Gounod wrote many beautiful songs, including the widely known Ave Marie based on Bach's first prelude. His influence on contemporary music was very great.

A MAN-SIZED FIGHT.

News dispatches filtering through from India indicate that spokesmen for the British government have not been entirely candid, to say the least, in declaring that the present unrest in India is due chiefly to the discontent of small groups and that the nation as a whole is not seriously involved.

The latest bit of news tells how two brigades of British infantry are fighting with 25,000 natives along the northwestern frontier. That hardly looks like a minor clash. Numbers like that are rather impressive. An affair of that kind can be called a "battle" rather than a "clash" or a "riot."

There is little reason to believe that England's grip on India will be materially lessened by the present trouble. But it is growing more evident daily that the upheaval is a conflict of major proportions.

Germany, a news dispatch says, has recommended milk instead of coffee for the standard army beverage. And by way of encouragement it can be pointed out what a milk fund contest did for one of the native sons.

President Hoover has been invited to join five Indian tribes on his western trip. As though the president hasn't troubles enough as Big Chief Executive.

Aerial honeymoons, it is reported, are becoming very popular. Newly married couples were up in the clouds long before the coming of airplanes.

Health Commissioner Wynne of New York declares that loud noises often causes sudden deaths. The casualties must have been terrific after Mussolini's recent speechmaking tour.

A Greek play more than 2300 years old is now the rage on Broadway. And yet visitors who have taken it in will insist back home that they've seen the original company.

Cheer up! Those puns on Morrow can't last forever.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

One of the Russian boys soon came right up and said, "Join in our game. Come, help us push our wagon. You see, I talk your language plain. I studied and 'twas not in vain. My folks made me take English ere my high school course was done."

"That's fine," cried Scouty. "I wish I could talk your language. Me, oh my, I know that I'd feel mighty proud. Some day I hope I'll learn. And now we'll gladly join your play and push that wagon on its way." "You bet we will," snapped Copy. "I am glad to take my turn."

So, while some pushed, the others rode and it made quite a merry load. Soon Clowny, to, the Travel Man, cried, "Hey! Be brave and bold. Jump on the wagon for a ride. It's wonderful when once it's tried." "Oh, no," replied the Travel Man, "I think I'm much too old."

"Ha, ha!" laughed Scouty. "That's all wrong. As long as you feel good and strong, you still are young. Don't say you're old, but just remain a kid. Hop right on now and take a seat. The ride you'll have will be a treat." The Travel Man cried, "Sure!" And that's exactly what he did.

The whole bunch pulled the wagon now. The Travel Man hung on somehow, and when the ride was over he admitted it was great. Just then they heard some music near and Clowny gave a boisterous cheer. Cried he, "Let's find the players. Hurry up or we'll be late."

Then ran for 'bout a block or two and then the next thing that they knew, wee Scouty cried, "Ah, here they are." And then the bunch drew near. One Tiny shouted, "Please play more. To hear you's what we came here for." And so the players played and played and filled the bunch with cheer.

(The Tinymites have some more fun with Russian children in the next story.)

"Made a New Person of Me"

Conductor on M. S. Railroad Relieved of Severe Case of Hemorrhoids (Piles)

Everyone who is afflicted with Hemorrhoids (Piles) or other rectal trouble cannot help but be impressed by the following letter written to the Mc Cleary Clinic, E-2802 Elms Boulevard, Excelsior Springs, Mo., by Claude Hunterford, 1212 Eleventh Ave. S., Fort Dodge, Iowa, conductor for the M. & S. Railroad.

"I want you to know how very grateful I am to you and your entire staff of physicians. Only those who are afflicted as I was will ever know how terribly I suffered before coming to you for treatment. I went to work on my run Monday following my return home and since that time I have worked every day and am experiencing the best of health. Your treatments made a new person of me and I am going to take care of myself. Your treatments were less painful than the suffering I went through in the past. I will gladly recommend your institution to my railroad friends and I assure you I appreciate the very kind way in which I was treated by you."

If you or any member of your family are afflicted with any form of rectal trouble, write The Mc Cleary Clinic, E-2802 Elms Blvd., Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a free copy of their book, "The Mc Cleary reference list of former patients" contains more than 20,000 names—Adv.

OUTBOARD MOTOR CLUB IS FORMED HERE LAST EVE

A Dixon-Sterling Club Is Organized: To Plan Race Meetings

Sterling and Dixon outboard motorboat owners met at the Cromwell electric shop last evening and perfected the organization of a local chapter of the National Outboard Association. The purpose of the organization is to increase interest in outboard motoring on Rock river and to sponsor races, the first of which will be held July 4 over the Lowell park course. Commodore W. E. MacGavin of the Illinois Outboard Association of Chicago, and F. E. Bacon of Rochelle, treasurer of the state organization, were present and assisted in launching the Dixon-Sterling Club. Temporary officers selected to head the organization until the charter is delivered next week, are as follows:

Commodore—Will Rogers, Dixon.
Vice Commodore—A. W. Courmyer, Sterling.
Secretary—Edward M. Graybill, Dixon.

Treasurer—W. H. Jacobs, Sterling. A dozen outboard motor enthusiasts signed the charter last evening forming the foundation for the Dixon-Sterling club. Application blanks may be obtained from Walter Cromwell. The state officers will return to Dixon next Monday evening to attend a meeting to be held at the Cromwell electric shop for the purpose of perfecting the organization and launching plans for the first outboard motor races of the season to be held at the Lowell park course on July Fourth.

A. W. Courmyer and W. H. Jacobs representing the outboard motor owners of Sterling represented that city at the meeting here last evening. It was explained that Sterling at the present time was without a suitable water course for racing purposes, because of submerged stumps and logs in the river, and the owners very willingly joined the Dixon club.

Praise Local Course
Commodore W. E. MacGavin of the Illinois Outboard Association and State Treasurer F. E. Bacon spoke highly of the fine natural course at Lowell park. The officers stated that the course had been investigated carefully with a view of bringing the state championship races to Dixon in August. Speaking of the course Commodore MacGavin said: "My visits to Dixon have proven to me that this is a city and a community of natural resources. The course at Lowell park is peculiarly and very fittingly, one of these natural resources. I have no hesitancy in stating that it is the finest river site for outboard motor racing in Illinois. We have investigated it thoroughly and find that a natural two and one-half mile course lays in front of that beautiful wooded park where thousands may view the racing events beneath the shade of the natural forest. Such a setting and background cannot be found in Illinois or surrounding states. You have the natural possibilities here for the development of a site for the state championship motor boat races. Peoria has entertained these for years and Dixon now has a wonderful opportunity to bring them to Dixon. Racing craft may easily be transported for many miles over your fine system of state highways direct to the racing course."

Three Courses In State
"At present there are three courses in the state of Illinois adapted to the holding of outboard motorboat races. These are at Peoria, Fox lake and the Lowell park course. A few racers who were here last year know of your natural course and are very enthusiastic over it. It needs no development. I believe that Dixon has an opportunity to secure the state championship races in August, although I am certain that Fox lake is going to make a strong bid for them."

At present the Fourth of July races are practically assured. The Sterling motor boat owners plan to erect a pier at Lowell park where they may launch their craft and will make a headquarters during the summer. Several new boats have been added in Dixon this spring and at present there is a strong feeling that Dixon should have a public boat house for the accommodation of all manner of water craft.

As soon as the Dixon-Sterling club becomes a permanent organization next Monday evening, plans will be launched to assure the races for the Fourth of July and time trials to be held July 5 over an official course in an effort to establish a new outboard motor record, which will attract about 100 of the fastest racing craft in Illinois to the Lowell park course.

SENATOR SCHALL OF MINNESOTA IS VICTOR AT POLLS

Congressman White Nominated For Senate By Maine G. O. P.

St. Paul, Minn., June 17—(AP)—Renomination of Thomas D. Schall, Republican, for the United States Senate was indicated today when more than one fourth of the state's precincts reporting from yesterday's primary election gave him a plurality of 25,593 over Gov. Theodore Christianson, his chief opponent. Returns from 1,055 precincts out of 3,698 in the state generally distributed in urban and rural districts gave Schall 80,188 and Christianson 54,595. John F. Selb, running on a wet platform, polled 8,745. Schall swept the three largest cities in the state, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, by better than a 3 to 2 vote and also led in many of the districts in the southern part of the state.

WHITE WINS IN MAINE

Portland, Me., June 17—(AP)—Congressman Wallace H. White Jr., representative in the National House for 13 years, today was the Republican nominee for United States Senator to succeed Arthur R. Gould.

With all but 70 of the state's 632 precincts reported the vote was: White, 42,197; former Governor Ralph O. Brewster, 25,877. White took the lead early in yesterday's primary election and increased it through the night. A total of 6,064 votes was received by Dugald E. Dewar, who ran on a wet platform.

Nomination on the Republican ticket is tantamount to election in Maine and Congressman White undoubtedly will succeed Senator Gould of Presque Isle, who is retiring.

In the only other statewide contest, Governor William Tudor Gardner, seeking renomination, swamped former Mayor John Wilson of Bangor. Gardner polled 52,036 to Wilson's 34,721.

NEW JERSEY IS VOTING

Newark, N. J., June 17—(AP)—The political eyes of the nation were centered on the New Jersey primary today in which prohibition is the paramount issue and an Ambassador, a former Senator and a Congressman are the candidates for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

The polls are open from 7 A. M. until 8 P. M. (E.S.T.). Managers for Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen and Representative Franklin W. Fort, the Republican Senatorial candidates, all predicted one of the largest votes in a New Jersey Republican primary. They estimated that from 500,000 to 650,000 ballots would be cast.

With the close of the campaign, which ended with radio addresses by the candidates, supporters of all three were claiming victory.

Prohibition Is Issue

Prohibition became the chief issue when Ambassador Morrow opened his campaign with a declaration for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the return to the state control of liquor. Frelinghuysen, previously had taken a position favoring modification of the prohibition laws under federal control.

The day after Morrow opened his campaign, Fort entered the lists as a champion of prohibition. The state Anti-Saloon League and other dry groups rallied to his support.

Ambassador Morrow closed his campaign last night with a rally at Asbury Park and a radio speech in which he thanked Republicans of the state for the support they had given him.

Frelinghuysen in his last radio appeal attacked Morrow for not repudiating the support of the state Republican organization, which he charged was responsible for corrupt conditions in many parts of the state.

Charges that Morrow and Frelinghuysen had dodged the prohibition issue after he entered the race were made by Fort in his final address to the voters.

Democrats have no contest in the Senatorial primary.

Several congressional and local contests also will be settled.

Pattani, the dispatch said, was believed to be seeking a compromise with Gandhi on the latter's "four points," which he laid down as his principles for the independence movement.

"FEEL BETTER THAN I HAVE IN FIVE YEARS"

Again Konjola Proves Its Merits in Conquering Ills that Raged for Nearly Ten Years.

MRS. HENRY WALKER.

Don't just wish for relief—get it. Consider the experiences of Mrs. Henry Walker, 1111 Broadway, Quincy, Ill., who says of Konjola, the new and different medicine for the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

"For nearly ten years I was bothered with constipation, gas and bloating. This caused heart palpitation, pain and belching of a red hot sour liquid. Every morning I felt tired out. My nerves were on edge. I could not sleep and my appetite was gone. About last Christmas I had an attack of neuritis, so bad I could not move my head nor shoulders. Then it was that I decided to try Konjola, and the results to date are remarkable. I have taken six bottles, and my friends and neighbors see the difference in me. Neuritis has vanished. Housework does not tire me and I enjoy my meals. I shall take a few more bottles of Konjola. This medicine will always have my heartiest endorsement.

Quit experimenting; quit groping for the right medicine. Let Konjola cleanse and stimulate the ailing organs; rid the system of poisons and impurities; and open the door for the return of new and glorious health to take the place of pain.

"Konjola is sold and recommended by all the better drug stores in Dixon, Ill., and throughout this section.—Adv.

ILLINOIS CORN OFF TO A GOOD START THIS YEAR

Indications Are For A Larger Yield Than Last Season's

Springfield, Ill., June 17.—(UP)—Illinois corn is off to a good start this season despite an unusual lack of rain, according to a joint survey of the state crop situation by representatives of state and federal departments of Agriculture, an analysis of which was published here.

The report disclosed indications that Illinois farmers will produce more corn this year than in 1929 and that winter wheat while somewhat below average, is improved.

The state crop situation as a whole, however, is featured by uneven conditions and typical of a dry spring season. Prospects of crops other than corn and winter wheat range from average downward.

In a general way, the survey revealed, the northern third of the state has fared better than elsewhere and crop conditions are reported near average or better in that portion. The effects of the prolonged spring drought becomes increasingly marked and more spotted going south from the upper central area, the report states. The situation is said to be most acute in the extreme southern portions.

Spring wheat, barley and rye crops, located largely in the northern part of the state are practically normal. Oat and hay conditions are slightly below average. The majority of the former is located in the upper half of the state while hay is an important crop in the lower portion.

The peach crop is a failure, according to the report, but apples and pears are said to be in fair condition. Labor supply continues to be plentiful but the demand is said to be less than in other recent years. The early spring start and continued favorable conditions for field work have enabled many farmers to take care of their work without hiring extra help.

Moderate rains have been reported during the first half of the present month in the northern part of the state but with few exceptions there has been little or no rainfall recorded in the southern portion.

Farming Factors

BY CECIL OWEN

(United Press Farm Editor)
Washington.—(UP)—Chemical research in the laboratories of the United States Department of Agriculture has resulted in transforming millions of tons of waste farm products into cold cash for growers.

The story of scientific research in the utilization of farm by-products is a continuing one to which fresh chapters are being added almost weekly. Only recently, a new use for cotton seed meal, commonly used for cattle feed, was discovered.

Results of nutrition studies on cotton seed meal revealed the product was rich in Vitamins G and B and excellent for use in treating pellagra, a serious nutritional disease especially prevalent in the south. In this respect, cotton seed meal was revealed as a rival of yeast, which is the richest known natural source of these two vitamins.

Researches into uses of by-products of corn and cotton have been especially fruitful of results. It has long been scientifically practicable to make high quality paper from corn stalks, and at least one plant has been formed for commercial manufacture of such paper. The surplus of timber for paper, however, has retarded growth of this new industry.

Development of the rayon industry is a monument to the chemical laboratory's research in this field. Rayon is made from the cellulose of cotton linters, corn stalks, etc., and corn stalks are also being widely used to make wall board and insulating material.

An enormous business has been created in recent years based on the manufacture of insulating board from the bagasse of the sugar cane, formerly regarded as waste pulp of the cane fit only for fuel. So great is the demand for bagasse that the new industry not only takes all the south can support but imports it from Cuba.

Dr. W. W. Skinner, assistant chief of the technical section of the Department, believes that lignin, derived from the corn plant, may some day yield as many important products of commercial, chemical and medicinal worth as coal tar, itself a by-product from manufacture of coal gas. Dyes have already been made from lignin and study of this brownish substance has just begun.

Furfural, formerly imported at a cost of $30 a ton, is now being utilized as a by-product of the oil processing industry to manufacture resins, paints, lacquers, etc., in which it is used as a solvent. Chemists believe it can be used also to make insulating material.

A by-product may even have by-products of its own. In pressing the cotton seed to extract the oil the cotton fuzz was a nuisance. This fuzz is called linters. There now exists a large industry making a product of linters which looks and feels like silk. It is also used in making mattresses, explosives, and other materials.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago.—(AP)—When receipts of cattle continued liberal after the Memorial Day holiday, and dressed beef trade was restricted by higher prices and a heat wave, hoof prices yielded ground all along the line, the Prairie Farmer Market review said. While prices of light steers gained slightly on weighty kinds during the last two weeks, they remained at a discount of 50 cents to $1 on the Chicago market. The movement of stockers and feeder cattle tapered off rapidly in May and has been lighter than a year ago each week since late in March.

"Early in June," the review said, "hog prices showed signs of getting out of the narrow groove in which they have fluctuated for weeks. The Chicago top going to the highest level since April 18. Thus far, there has been no real spring increase in receipts as arrivals from week to week have been remarkably uniform for two months, but whatever this spring run proves to be, it will be less of a factor than expected a few weeks ago."

"The advance in spring lamb prices carried them $2 to $2.50 above two weeks ago before increasing receipts finally caused a sharp setback, especially on common grades. The first Washington spring lambs arrived at Chicago where those ready for slaughter brought $13.50 against $16.50 last year and $18.50 two years ago. Wool prices have strengthened."

Wheat prices softened early in June. The visible supply decrease at the end of May was disappointing. Export demand has been slow, trade forecasts indicated improvement in winter wheat prospects during May, rains fell over the domestic spring wheat belt and Canada, the movement of new wheat began to loom up on the horizon, and bearish speculative activity increased.

"While primary receipts of corn have increased moderately since the middle of May, demand has been broad enough to absorb them and make further inroads on market stocks. The visible supply on May 31 was 10.8 million bushels, the smallest at this season since 1923.

"Little change has been recorded in the hay market recently. Receipts have been light."

"Although advices from the country indicate a gradual falling off in the egg lay, the movement to the larger distributing markets has been holding up fairly well. Consumer demand is moderate and dealers are forced to store more eggs than at the corresponding time a year ago in order to keep stocks cleared."

"Butter prices have recovered slightly after dropping to severely low prices, but dealers generally are not optimistic about prospects. Although retail prices of butter have been low for some months, consumption has not expanded as much as was hoped for."

TRUCK CAPTAINS ELECTED

Durham, N. C.—(UP)—Chester Freeman, Washington, D. C. and William Simon, Wilmington, N. C., have been elected co-captain of the 1930 Duke University track team.

Springfield, Ill., June 17.—(AP)—Twelve Illinois farm youths will compete in the semi-final public speaking contest of the Future Farmers of America to be conducted at Urbana, Thursday, J. E. Hill, state supervisor of vocational agriculture announced today. Four of the twelve will be selected to participate in the final contest on June 20.

The oratory contest has been sponsored by the future farmers to develop a proficiency in the art of public speaking among rural students. Governor Louis L. Emmerson will represent a silver trophy to the winner of the state contest.

Contestants for the semi-finals were selected at sectional elimination meets. More than 200 high schools competed in these division contests. The sectional winners who will speak at Urbana on June 19 follow:

Melvin Stengel, Lanark; "Livestock Makes the Farm More Profitable."

Charles Farley, DeKalb; "Livestock Makes the Farm More Profitable."

Year Finds Board Assisting Market Of 14 Farm Crops

(Associated Press Farm Editor)
Washington.—(AP)—On the eve of the agricultural marketing act's first anniversary, June 15, the federal farm board has made it possible for 14 different products to be sold cooperatively through five national sales agencies.

They are wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, flax, cotton, wool, mohair, beans, cattle, hogs, sheep, and goats.

The producer of any of these crops now may move his product into orderly market channels, operating through his local cooperative which in turn is affiliated with a regional organization leading into the central.

The board's latest move toward another national commodity marketing set-up contemplates development of local and regional cooperative associations in the apple-growing districts of the Cumberland-Potomac-Shenandoah area, western New York area, the New England states and mid-western states and the mountain states.

For the present the board will aid in strengthening existing cooperatives and will help in the organization of new ones wherever desired and where the particular project offers promise of success.

Local cooperatives will be encouraged to unify their marketing activities and establish regional sales agencies with the hope that eventually there will be sufficient co-operative organization of apple growers to warrant development of a national sales program.

Much local and regional organizational has gone forward in such products as tobacco, cherries, raisins, products, potatoes, grapes and raisins. The feasibility of national organizations for them is in doubt, however.

STRIPPING OF MILKER PAYS FARMER WELL

Tester Of Lee Co. Herd
Impr. Assn. Cites
Loss To One Man

Ambos, Ill., June 17.—Failure to strip after the milking machine netted one man a loss of approximately $123.60 on a 20 cow herd during a month, according to Kenneth Albrecht, tester of Lee County Dairy Herd Improvement Association. Stripping 3½ pounds of milk testing 6% from one cow demonstrated the advisability of stripping.

Separating one half his milk and selling the balance as whole milk resulted in a loss of $6.75. Another dairyman skimmed cream from his cans before sending them to the condensary and was thereby losing an average of $7.63 a month for each member of his family.

High cows in the association for May were: Roy Lehman, G. Holstein 2,297 pounds milk, 85 pounds fat. James Morrissey, P. B. Holstein, 2,439 milk and 84.66 butterfat. Lehman, G. Holstein, 1,559 pounds milk and 81.1 fat. All first three cows were milked twice daily, remaining two cows three times daily. O. C. Reed, G. Holstein, 1,929 milk and 81 pounds fat. Rockford, P. B. Holstein, 2,489 milk and 77.2 fat.

High herds in order were: Clare Reed, 12 P. B. and G. Holsteins, 1,416 milk and 50.1 fat. One two-year-old heifer made a record of 58.9 fat in this herd. James Morrissey, 9 P. B. Holsteins, 1,544 milk and 48.7 fat. Six herds averaged over 40 pounds of fat. With 434 cows in the association and 32 dry, the average was 912 pounds milk and 32 fat. Forty pounds of fat were made by 115 cows during May. Four cows were culled and none purchased.—E. T.

ALBRECHT HERD TOPS LEE HERD IMP. ASSN. AGAIN

High Herds For Month
Announced By Tester This Week

Ohio, Ill., June 17.—Three times in succession the P. B. Holstein of Henry Albrecht topped the Lee Bureau Dairy Herd Improvement Association with a record of 1900 pounds of milk and 63.7 pounds of fat. Following Albrecht cow were the cows in order as named: Glen Riley, P. B. & Grade Jerseys (1 dry) 1148 milk and 40.2 pounds fat. Lester Barkman 16 G. Holsteins, 1162 pounds milk and 40 fat. E. F. Erbes 13 G. Jerseys (2 dry) 776 milk, and 39.9 fat.

PLAIN, EVERY DAY FARM COWS CAN YIELD A GOOD PROFIT

THE more milk and butterfat a cow produces, the greater the farmer's return for the feed consumed, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. This statement should not discourage the man with (what he believes are) average farm cows, because an average cow, properly fed, is more profitable than a good cow poorly fed.

The most important factor in determining the amount of profit a cow makes is yearly production. A tester in a Virginia cow testing association studied the records of over 400 cows and grouped them according to their butterfat production. To the returns received (from the average cow in each group) the value of the manure and of a day-old grade calf were added. From this amount was subtracted the labor and overhead charges, and the result was taken to be the amount received for the feed consumed. Then it was figured out what returns were received for each of the different groups.

The result of the tester's work is shown graphically in the accompanying chart. After paying all other charges, cows making less than 150 lbs. of butterfat returned $8.23 per ton for hay, and $21.70 per ton for grain. The next group

Poultry and Eggs Quality Pays

"Are egg prices going lower?"
"How much lower are poultry prices going to be?"
"We believe the spread in paying prices between quality—(both poultry and eggs)—this year will be greater than it has ever been before."

"Why do we think so?"
"The production of poultry and eggs are very heavy and on that account the eastern buyers are very critical. They will buy nothing but the best. Due to ridiculously low prices being paid for ordinary stuff in some sections, the producers are discouraged and are not attempting to feed and care for their flocks properly. The result is—that the bulk of receipts at the eastern markets will be very poor quality. If you have a market for quality produce this year and will produce the right kind of eggs and poultry and market at the right time you are going to make a real profit on your flock."

"Early hatched chicks are of course going to be the most profitable if they are well-fed and cared for. The good pure bred, healthy, well-fed laying flock is going to lay all summer and fall and if the eggs are properly taken care of and marketed to a quality buyer you will get good prices before winter comes. The good prices to come this summer and fall will not do the farmer who has no eggs at that time any good."

"The day of hit and miss poultry raising as far as profits are concerned is passing. We believe this is a very good time for the farmer who still manages his flock like his grandfather did, to quit. On the other hand the time will never come when the better poultry farmers will not make a profit. Full feed your growing stock so as to get quick growth, then sell your cockerels soon as they get to weigh four pounds or over. Markets will not be as high as last year but we do not believe prices will be as low as some expect on these heavy roasting chickens if they are marketed before the late fall rush. Storage houses are full of broilers (the small, undesirable size), and we believe on that account that you should hold until they at least weigh 3 pounds. The chickens that weigh 3 pounds now should be marketed, but there are very few of these. If your houses are getting crowded you should market some regardless, as chickens in over-crowded houses will not do well. This year you should cull your laying flock every few weeks and discard the loafers. Most all hens that have now quit laying or that quit within the next three months will not lay again until next spring. The best layers will not lay many eggs unless full fed a balanced egg ration."

"Eggs must be delivered so as to candle as fresh, new laid eggs, if you are to get No. 1 prices. Eggs held in the same temperature as milk will become No. 2 as soon as the milk will sour. Eggs that are gathered often and kept in a cool place must be delivered often."

"An experienced egg candler can tell at a glance after an egg is placed before a light just how your eggs have been held."

"It is surprising to find the difference in eggs from different farmers. Some lots are always clean and fresh—others—if we have rainy weather—grade dirty; if we have a dry spell, they grade clean; if we have hot weather they grade heated; if we have cool weather they have fair quality. The careless poultry farmer's eggs grade as follows: The first three dozen on top of case are fine, fresh eggs; the next not so good and usually the bottom filler, which are the oldest eggs, all grade No. 2 and usually we will find a few rotten eggs."

"These are the people who complain about the grade."

"Small and dirty eggs are always classed as No. 2."

"Eggs should be gathered often, kept in a very cool place and marketed as often as possible."

"Whenever you go to town deliver what eggs you have. We would rather make a check for three dozen No. 1 Henny eggs than we would for one hundred dozen No. 2. In hot weather an egg will show heat in one day's time if held in the house. A heated or held egg is a No. 2. Keep eggs cool and deliver often."

The Brooklyn Robins are out in front of the National League pack by only three and one-half games but the cut-throat actions of the Giants and Cubs makes that advantage look mountainous at this stage of the pennant race.

With the Robins bowling over their rivals consistently, the Giants and Cubs have come to the aid of the league leaders during the past three days in their battle for runner-up honors. Three days ago the Robins were three and one-half games out in front. Today they still hold that lead although the Cubs have gained one full game on the Giants by taking two of their first three contests. They meet again today.

Charlie Grimm, the league champion's field captain, proved the bag gun in the Cubs' second victory yesterday. His home run with the bases full in the ninth gave Chicago an 8 to 5 decision over New York. All of the Giants runs were made on home runs by Terry, Jackson, Allen, Leach and Hogan, the first four hitting their circuit drives in the first three innings and Hogan adding his more or less as an afterthought in the ninth.

The Pirates and Phillies staged a typical Pittsburgh-Philadelphia slug game, the latter winning a slug fest 16 to 14. Chuck Klein hit in his twenty-fifth consecutive game and took the National League home run leadership with his nineteenth circuit drive.

The Cincinnati Reds had little mercy on Burleigh Grimes and Bruce Cunningham, pounding out a 11 to 1 decision over the Braves.

Ray Phelps turned in a neat pitching assignment to enable the Robins to defeat the Cardinals 5 to 3. The lanky Robin hurler held the Cards scoreless for eight innings but injured his throwing hand in the ninth and St. Louis took advantage to score all of its runs.

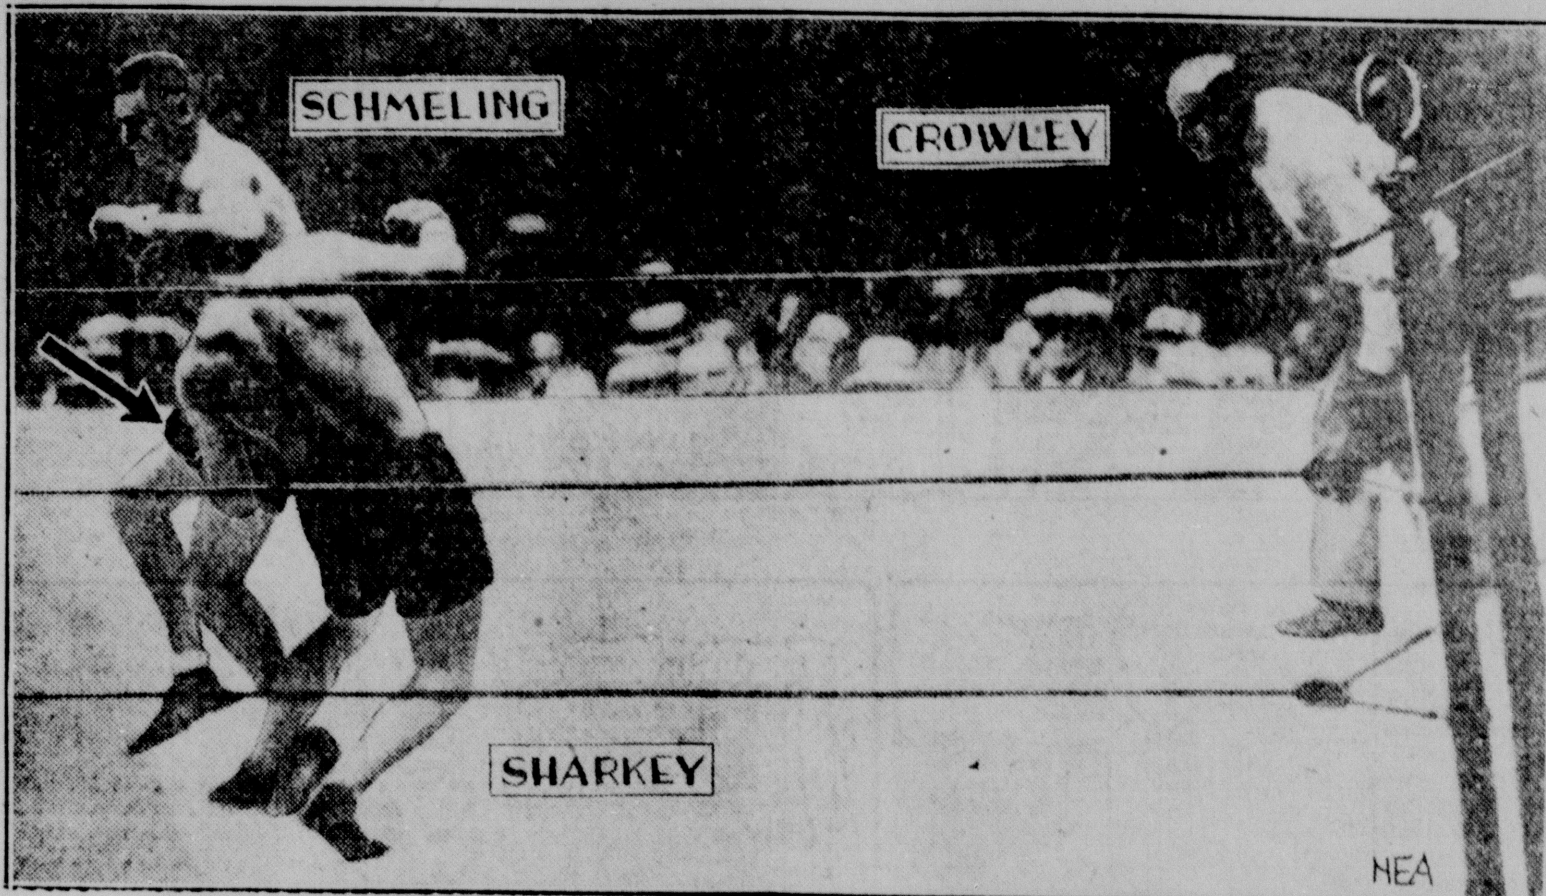

By a margin of three points the Athletics clung to their American League leadership, as they lost to the Tigers 9 to 8. The champions percentage column reads .607 as against the Indians .604.

Ted Lyons again failed to win his tenth game of the season when the Boston Red Sox made it two straight over the White Sox, winning 6 to 3. Two wild pitches, one caused by a rain covered ball, in the seventh led to Lyons' sixth defeat of the season. Jack Russell was the winning pitcher.

The Senators unleashed a heavy offensive in the last three innings to take the measure of the St. Louis Browns 9 to 7.

The Indians and New York Yankees were rained out at Cleveland.

THE ONLY PHOTO OF FOUL THAT BEAT SHARKEY
NEA CAMERAMAN AT RINGSIDE SNAPS BLOW THAT WON CHAMPIONSHIP FOR SCHMELING

How and why Jack Sharkey lost another chance to become heavyweight champion of the world is graphically told in this striking picture, the only one taken at the instant the foul blow to Max Schmeling's body actually landed. Sharkey has sidestepped the German's leaping rush, at the same time hooking his left into Schmeling's body. Max's feet hardly are touching the canvas while his back is turned toward Referee Crowley, completely obstructing the official's view of the blow. An arrow points to Sharkey's fist just as it struck Schmeling below the belt. The judge who declared the blow foul sat at the ring's edge, directly to the left. This exceptional picture was snapped by a fast cameraman for The Dixon Evening Telegraph and NEA Service at the ringside.

SECOND LESSON IN BASEBALL IS READY FOR BOYS

Dixon and Amboy Youths to Meet Thursday: Ashton, Compton, Tuesday

The second of the series of baseball instructions for boys of Dixon and Amboy will be held Thursday afternoon. The Telegraph's course in baseball by Ward T. Miller has gained wide popularity throughout the county and many requests have been received for the holding of classes at other than the four original places selected. At 2:30 Thursday afternoon the future diamond stars of the county will meet Sheriff Miller at the Independent field for another hour of schooling on the important tactics of baseball.

At 4 o'clock, the second of the series of instructions will be given at Amboy. William Powers, who has charge of the applicants from Amboy and vicinity, has arranged a seven inning game to be played at the Central school diamond between Bob Leake's Riversides and Jack Powers Colts which will be umpired by Sheriff Miller.

Compton, Ashton Tuesday
The popularity of the course becomes more evident each day. The course will open in Ashton next Tuesday afternoon at the high school athletic field at 2:30 and at 4 o'clock, Instructor Miller will be at the Weber field four miles north and east of Compton for the first of the series of instructions to the boys of the southeast section of the county. Boys from Paw Paw, Compton, Lee, Steward and Compton will be in attendance and numerous inquiries have been received from applicants from that section of the county.

The interest has reached a point where the boys of the east end of the county are hoping for an opportunity to organize a representative team which will meet the best material to be found in the west half of the county for a championship game. Henry Chaon, who has charge of the applicants in Compton and vicinity notified Sheriff Miller today that a challenge would be issued to the boys of the west half of Lee county after the first lesson next Tuesday.

In conducting the courses, applicants showing the greater ability will be selected with a view of organizing two teams to participate in a championship game. Several boys from Paw Paw and vicinity have applied to Supervisor Henry Knetsch for information concerning the course. Plans are being made to have the Paw Paw boys attend the series of lessons to be given at the Weber field as well as those of Scarborough, Lee, Steward and Compton, who desire to attend.

Each week Sheriff Miller will prepare a lesson which will be printed in the Telegraph and boys attending the school are urged to read and study these carefully along with their course of training. The course is free to every boy in Lee county or any boys from surrounding counties who are able to reach one of the four points selected. Sheriff Miller, a former big-leaguer is giving his time, and experience to impart to the boys the tactics necessary for a successful baseball player.

SPORT BRIEFS

By United Press
Chicago—William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, may come here in the near future to discuss with the Illinois Athletic Commission plans for staging in Chicago another match between Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling. Chairman John V. Clinchin said that although Carey had set no definite date for his trip he had intimated it would be soon.

London—Simple family rites for Sir Henry Segrave, noted speed driver who was killed when his boat, Miss England II, was wrecked last week, were held today at the Golders Green Crematorium. A memorial service was held simultaneously at St. Margaret's church, Westminster.

Pittsburgh—Jess Petty, veteran southpaw pitcher who was secured by the Pittsburgh Pirates in exchange for Shortstop Glenn Wright in December, 1928, has been sent to the Newark International League team.

New York—Jack (Kid) Berg, junior welterweight champion, and Kid Chocolate, undefeated Cuban featherweight have been matched by Madison Square Garden Corporation for a 10-round bout at the Polo Grounds, August 7.

Kingstown, Eng.—Shamrock V. Sir Thomas Lipton's America Cup challenger, scored its ninth victory in a series of 12 races yesterday, defeating Lulworth, Cambria and White Heather in a 17-mile trial.

Oyster Bay—Swetmore the Morgan-Nichols sloop, led her rivals, Enterprise and Whirlwind, to the finish line in a 25-mile race yesterday to win her second race in three starts of the series of trial events for America's Cup candidates.

Chicago—The business of pugilism has picked up in Chicago to the extent that some 14,000 persons already have paid in advance approximately $50,000 to see Otto von Porat and Young Stribling fight here tomorrow night and Chicago Stadium officials today were of the opinion that the show will be a "sell-out."

The building can accommodate better than 23,000 persons and it was believed there will be almost that many in attendance when Van Porat and Stribling enter the ring.

The two fighters were on edge today, each indulging in only light training. The fans seemed divided on the eventual outcome. Stribling, easily the better boxer, is fighting perhaps the hardest hitter in the heavyweight class today Van Porat.

BIG TRADE MADE

FEATURE OF NEWS

Art Shires to Washington:
Burleigh Grimes To
St. Louis Cards

Chicago, June 17.—(UP)—C. Arthur Shires, Chicago White Sox first baseman, went to the Washington Senators today in a trade for Pitcher Garland Braxton, a southpaw, and Catcher Bennett Tate, a heavy hitter, of the Senators. Managers Walter Johnson of the Senators, and Denie Bush of the White Sox, both expressed pleasure with the deal. Shires, sensing an opportunity to get in the World Series, was most elated of all.

Shires declared he would play "heads up" baseball for Walter Johnson, and took a parting shot at the White Sox management, intimating that he hadn't been doing his best because he lost out in his salary dispute with the Sox this spring.

With Bud Clancy covering first base in great style, the White Sox felt no great loss at having to part with Shires, who has been a source of trouble since he came up from Waco, Texas in 1928 with a great deal of chewing tobacco in his cheek, and started "purding his 'ego' around Comiskey Park.

Tate is expected to bring the Sox the hitting they need from their catcher while Braxton it is hoped will steady the Comiskey men's pitching staff.

From the time Lena Blackburne banished Shires from one game for clowning until Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis bent his brows in a ferocious scowl and told Arthur to choose between boxing and baseball, the first baseman has been in and out of hot water with the Sox. The Landis edict, however, diverted him to more serious ways, and the youngster—he is only 23—has been well behaved this season.

GRIMES TO ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., June 17.—(UP)—The acquisition of Burleigh Grimes, whose spitballs have been fooling National League batsmen for the last 14 years, today was heralded by St. Louis baseball fans as a long step toward aiding the Cardinals in their attempt to win the National League pennant.

The deal which brought Grimes to the Cardinals and sent "Wee Willie" Sherdel and Fred Frankhouse, hurlers, to the Boston Braves was announced last night by Sam Breadon, president of the Cards.

During his 14 seasons in the National League, Grimes has won 227 games and lost 174. He broke into major league ball with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1916 and then in turn served at Brooklyn, New York, Pittsburgh and Boston.

THE ONLY HOPE;

HE GOT GLY-CAS

Had Spent Hundreds of Dollars and Treated Years for Stomach Agony; is a Well Man Now.

"I had been treated for years and spent all kinds of money for relief but it was not until I found Gly-Cas that I got entirely rid of all my stomach suffering," said Mr. R. B. Wilson, widely known and respected resident of Lafayette, Ind., living at 1427 Columbia St., that city.

"She taxed Clara with it on the day after Chummy finally turned the corner and began to struggle back to life.

"Clara, you're spending your own money on us! But, no, you haven't got any, I'm sure. Clara, where are you getting money from?" A suspicion made Judy fush and frown.

"Is it Mr. Steyne?" she cried excitedly. "You're not taking money from him, Clara, are you?"

Clara confessed that she was. "I thought it was all right," she said, with her quaint, blunt face screwed up into an expression of contrite surprise. "He said he was an old friend."

"Where have you seen him?" asked Judy's accusing voice.

"Why, he came to inquire—twice. I don't know where you were—oh, yesterday you were out for a walk with Bastien? He was awfully anxious about Chummy, and I didn't like to refuse."

"How much, Clara?"

"Twenty-five he gave me yesterday."

"You mustn't take any more. Promise! I'll get some money. Of course, Chummy must have everything."

"Oh, how splendid that she's getting better!" cried Clara.

She proceeded to execute a weird, shuffling dance that would have brought down the house if she had performed it on a stage. Judy laughed till the tears rolled down her cheeks.

All that morning her thoughts were busy with Alan Steyne as he posed for Max Dickbreed's Spanish dancer in her vivid yellow and black dress, with immense scarlet poppies under the lace mantilla that covered her flaming hair. She had not seen Alan since that night of course, when Chummy was well again, she would have to. He must come to see Chummy. He had said he was fond of her. He must be everywhere was. Those brief moments at the foot of the staircase had been madness. No doubt he regretted them bitterly.

Judy was an incredible optimist.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JUDITH GRANT, beautiful Greenwich Village artist's model, shares life with her apartment with CHARLISSE MORLEY, known as Chummy, a beautiful girl who lost her memory seven years ago when ALAN STEYNE, her lover, abruptly disappeared, and who has been mentally affected ever since Steyne's reappearance, and Judith and BASTIEN DUMONT, an artist who loves Judith, arrange for a meeting between him and Chummy but Chummy fails utterly to recognize him. Steyne calls often to see the two girls, and explains to Judith that he and Chummy had never planned to be married but had merely been victims of a youthful infatuation which he had always supposed that Chummy had outgrown as easily as he did. He takes Judith to a theater party, and on their return kisses her and tells her he is in love with her; but just at that moment Judith learns that Chummy has contracted pneumonia and may not recover. She tells Steyne she loves him, and dashes off to take care of the girl.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

CHUMMY came very near to death. She was so ill that one night Doctor O'Shane spent five hours in her room. She was delirious that night, and her high-pitched chatter seemed to fill the building. There was no deep, bell-like sound in that thin, restless voice.

Judy spent most of the time on the landing, and often Clara Jenks joined her. Clara could not help looking on the sunny side of things, and she made Judy laugh in the midst of her misery—which was a very good thing.

Judy did not go much into her friend's room. At first Doctor O'Shane would not let her do so, and afterward she felt a reluctance that had its roots in the memory of Alan Steyne's embrace at the foot of the stairs. She did not know how she was ever going to face Chummy again. She had thought herself sick about that night, picturing Chummy, light-headed and burning with fever, instinctively making her way to the Cafe Turc, seeking the place where was enshrined all she had ever known of happiness and love.

Before the end of the week the crisis was over, and care, nourishment, and rest were all that Chummy required.

"She had a much stronger constitution than I should have thought," said Doctor O'Shane. "When she picks up, she'll be all right again; but, Miss Judy, it's yourself I'll have to be prescribing for next. You're looking altogether too much like a snowdrop—though, sure, there's no fault to be found with the little flower itself."

Judy was a very bad housekeeper, and Clara Jenks had taken it on herself to buy food and other necessities for her. Judy handed over her purse with a sigh of relief; but she was forced to realize, in a day or two, that the luxuries and delicacies that Clara provided could not possibly have come out of that slender store.

MACHINERY IS RIVAL TO CORN PICKING CHAMPS

Does Good Work at A Much Less Cost Tests Prove

Urbana, Ill., June 17—Another of the few remaining heroes of American rural life, the champion corn husker, may be nothing more than a myth to generations of the future.

It cost 104 cents to husk and crib corn by hand, whereas the cost with one-row mechanical pickers in 1928 and 1929 was 8.3 cents a bushel and only 6.8 cents a bushel with two-row pickers.

At average rates paid hand huskers, the cost of harvesting Illinois' annual crop of about 8,000,000 acres of corn is about 20,000,000, according to P. E. Johnston, of the farm management department.

Fortunately for those boys who aspire to be champion corn huskers, not all Illinois farms are organized to use a mechanical picker to advantage, Johnston explained.

All the figures on cost of husking were secured from farms in east central Illinois. The figures for the mechanical pickers are based upon records kept by the farmers and include their estimates as to the life of the machines. All were new implements and all were of the power take-off type, so that depreciation was hard to estimate.

REMEMBER THE FLY BY JAMES F. ELDER, M. D. YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

How he grows! He toils not, neither does he spin. He has no conscience, and pride is not in him. As a mathematician, he is the world's chief multiplier, and India with all her millions is not more teeming than he.

This time of the year is the favorable season for mating and raising large families of flies. The robust carriers of germs, filth and dirt which have been hibernating during the winter are now coming forth with the warm weather to feast for the summer season.

Do you know that today's husky female fly will be a mother, grandmother, great-grandmother and so on to about seven "greats," and the ancestress of over a million flies, in July? Some family! So swat and kill her now!

Figure it for yourself. If you do kill her now, all that million and more flies at the one swat. If you wait until the end of June one swat only keeps about a hundred thousand and from distributing disease. But if you delay still another month, you can kill one fly at a time and oh, how many there will be!

So let us lay out an active campaign against the fly, who is the poorest sport we have and has no respect for decency. They will walk over filth and then, if they have the chance, will come into our homes, walk over a good steak and all the

J. FRED SHEAN, EDITOR OF THE UNIONTOWN (PA.) HERALD, SAYS:

"THAT pessimism of the individual or group or individuals in a community builds up a 'sales resistance' that rings it with a Chinese wall of isolation."

Unbridled optimism goes to the other extreme with equally harmful results. But practical optimism which ascertains the facts about any community, studies its possibilities and acts intelligently through genuine co-ordination lays an offensive that means progress and prosperity.

It is this spirit which realizes, for instance, that frequently it is what is kept out of a community in the way of unwise industrial ventures that counts. It is this spirit which appreciates the need of diversification. And it is this spirit which appreciates that any city is part of an immediate contiguous territory and to be successful, must help its neighbors as well as itself—that what helps any one community in a given geographical section helps in direct ratio every other community.

NO CITY OR COMMUNITY CAN LIVE UNTO ITSELF ALONE.

The District Qualification Rounds Were Started Yesterday

BY HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, June 17—(AP)—Of the 150 players who will tee off in the national open golf championship at the Inter-Lachen Club, Minneapolis, July 10-11-12, only 23 will be amateurs.

District qualifying rounds throughout the country yesterday saw 93 professionals and 14 amateurs gain the 112 vacant places, the other 38 having been filled through exemptions. In the 38 exemptions were nine amateurs, Bobby Jones, defending champion, Francis Ouimet, Don Moe, Dr. O. F. Willing, George Voight, George Von Elm, Roland McKenzie and Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston, all of the 1930 Walker Cup team, and Cyril J. H. Toley of England, only foreign entry.

In the main, other first-rank golfers who failed to earn a place in the exempt list came through the qualifying round with flying colors. In the New York district, Johnny Farrell, open champion in 1928, and F. P. Perkins, former British amateur title-holder, tied for second place behind Rocky Rich, and other qualifiers here included Bill Melhorn, Joe Turnesa, and Johnny Golden.

Lester Bo'stad, Minneapolis amateur, former B. G. Ten champion, led the field in the St. Paul district, and another amateur, John Goodman of Omaha, who eliminated Bobby Jones in the first round of the last amateur championship, set the pace in the Omaha district.

Ed Dudley, Wilmington pro, successfully passed the test in the Philadelphia district, and at Chicago, Jock Hutchison, and Harry Cooper, pros, qualified easily, the former leading the field with a fine 142 for 36 holes. Chick Evans, veteran amateur, also qualified at Chicago.

The casualty list at New York included the amateurs, Jess Sweetser,
